Notes:

Part I PIN:

Style: The style is identified by the two-letter symbol "SR" followed by a two-digit number that describes the specification sheet. The letters identify low current capacity, circuit selector rotary switches; the number identifies the design and configuration covered by a single specification sheet, indicating the basic physical, mechanical, and electrical characteristics of the switch. The style number is designated in the title of each specification sheet.

Construction: The construction is identified by a single letter.

Angle of throw. The angle of throw is identified by a two-digit number. For angles of throw that are fractions of a degree, the closest, lower, whole number will be used.

Temperature life characteristic. The temperature life characteristics is identified by a single letter, indicating the temperature range and the electrical rotational life of the switch.

Vibration grade: The vibration grade is identified by a single digit.

Shock type: The shock type is identified by a single letter.

Insulation: The insulation material for the switch stator will be identified by a single letter.

Altitude: The altitude rating of the switch is identified by a single letter.

Special features: Switches having capabilities of low level circuit, EMI/RFI shielding, grounded shaft, or any combination thereof, will be identified by a single letter.

Part II PIN: The term Part or Identifying Number (PIN) is equivalent to the term part number which was previously used in this specification. The military PIN (when applicable) will consist of the letter "M", the basic number of the specification sheet, and an assigned dash number. The dash number will be either sequentially-assigned or coded.
